

Bosque County Community Plan 2023

What Is a Community Plan?

---

The Criminal Justice Division of the Governor’s Office (CJD) requires each Texas county to have a Criminal Justice Community Plan to identify gaps in services regarding criminal justice issues.

This document reflects the efforts of Bosque County citizens' efforts to ensure that any gaps in services addressed benefit the county. The names of those involved in the process are listed following pages under “Community Planning Team.”

Though the final draft of this plan was completed in August 2023, this is a work in progress. As new criminal justice goals are identified, the constituency of the planning team and priorities in the plan are subject to change. Such updates may be reported to the Bosque County Community Planning Coordinator throughout the year, and the program may be amended accordingly.

If you read this plan and have not been involved in its development, you are invited to join this ongoing effort. Your questions should be addressed to the Criminal Justice Program of the Heart of Texas Council of Governments. Contact information is provided on page 27.

The Bosque County commissioners support the concept of community planning by providing staff support and resources for developing and implementing the Bosque County Community Plan. Additionally, the Regional Criminal Justice Advisory Committee (CJAC) and the Heart of Texas Council of Government governing Board (Executive Committee) invite grant applications from county departments and community organizations that provide the services identified in the Community Plan.

Brief Description and History of Bosque County:

Nestled in oak-studded limestone hills and pecan-covered river bottoms, Bosque County is one of Texas's most beautiful, awe-inspiring counties. People from all over the state flock to the Top-of-the-Hill Country scenery every weekend. Whether staying at a lake or river lodge, or river house on the weekend, your family in Bosque County will surely be

Much of the beauty and heritage of Bosque County is closely entwined with its abundant waterways Brazos River and two lakes, Meridian and Whitney. The county's distinctive pathways reflect its history; the Cleng Peerson Memorial Highway, the Old Chisholm Trail, the Sante Fe Railroad, and the Texas Lakes Trail.

Early Spanish explorers bestowed Bosque (pronounced boss-kee), meaning "wooded." The first survey for land grants in the Bosque Valley came about in 1839. In 1849, a few years after Texas attained statehood, the first permanent settlers arrived in a territory still roamed by Native Americans. By 1854, the number of immigrants living in Bosque Territory had increased, and Bosque County was created. Meridian was named the County seat.

Lured by fertile, inexpensive land, more settlers came, mostly Anglo-Americans moving west with the frontier and Norwegian and German immigrants. The pioneer farmers and ranchers were industrious and creative. They built homes, churches, and schools, mills for wheat, gins for cotton, and produced a thriving livestock business. Bustling communities sprang up, and small towns flourished through the turn of the century. As America changed, so did Bosque County.

Identification of Community Problems

General Public Safety Needs and Issues

Crime is a complex and multifaceted problem, and crime control requires the constant and coordinated efforts of a wide range of public and private agencies. Countywide criminal justice planning is an essential precursor to effectively coordinating all varieties of crime amelioration activities in the county. The agencies that compose the Bosque County criminal justice system jointly strive to enforce lawful standards of conduct, protect individuals and communities, assist victims, improve institutional capabilities, and engage the community and its citizens in crime prevention while preserving individual civil liberties and protecting basic fundamental rights.

It is necessary to strive toward these goals by helping to facilitate the collaboration of community groups, law enforcement agencies, prosecutors, courts, and correctional agencies throughout the County. A broad approach to defining the crime problem and designing methods for its control has been identified as a priority. Crime-related issues have been studied and analyzed on a continuum from the overall social environment to post-crime responses, including community structure and dynamics, crime prevention, early intervention, and various types of criminal and juvenile justice agency responses. Within these parameters, this planning process develops, implements, and refines the community criminal justice plan to help meet the emerging needs of Bosque County. The goal of this planning process is to achieve a significant reduction in the frequency and severity of crime to facilitate a sense of pride, health, and safety in all our communities by:

- ◆ Promoting the planning and implementation of comprehensive strategies to prevent and control crime in general and violence throughout the community.
- ◆ Identifying philosophical principles that will promote the participation of law enforcement, judiciary, prosecution, corrections, victims, treatment providers, educators, media, businesses, and citizens throughout the community in the development of strategies to prevent, reduce and control crime and violence in the community;
- ◆ Promoting the fairness, effectiveness, and efficiency of all criminal and juvenile justice system segments.

PREVENTION AND INTERVENTION

Building assets in youth and the community is essential to a community plan. Therefore, prevention issues must take priority over those based on incarceration and deterrence if the long-term impact of crime control spending is to be maximized. Nonetheless, controlling known delinquents who threaten public safety must also remain an important strategy.

In each of the areas below, problems are identified, and data is included that supports the problems' existence and severity issues found in Bosque County. Below is a discussion of the problems and issues being addressed and how responses to these community problems could be improved. In some problem areas identified, there is no current data to support areas, due to the funding and program cuts taking effect within the last few hs. The data collection will be added to the plan as the problem area statistics become available throughout the year.

2. Delinquent behavior, schools at risk

Truancy is one of the minor juvenile crimes and is often the least enforced in most communities within Bosque County. There is substantial evidence that youth who become truant will eventually drop out of school and put themselves at high risk of becoming disadvantaged unproductive citizens. The linkages between truancy, tobacco, alcohol, and other drug use can lead to other chronic delinquent behaviors and possibly other violent behaviors. Truancy is the first sign of trouble. Coupled with academic failure, these two indicators may be the initial signs that a young person is giving up and dropping out. For example, according to the Department of Education/National Center for Education Statistics, over the past decade, between 347,000 and 544,000, 10th through 12th-grade students left school each year without a high school diploma. Status dropout rates for 16 to 24-year-olds were reported at 11% nationally. (The Condition of Education 2001, National Center for Education Statistics.)

The high percentage of students dropping out of high school jeopardizes the future economic security of the target area, increases the number of individuals with low educational attainment levels, and indicates a definite need for academic and prevention services.

Data Collection:

- Vandalism
- Truancy
- Theft
- Sexual aggression
- Date violence
- Aggression/Anger management
- Substance Abuse

- Possession of weapons

Schools need to be more staff with a better student-teacher and student-counselor ratio and find it difficult to address individual needs. Sometimes, students can develop a pattern of non-attendance and are no longer eligible for credit before anyone identifies the problem and takes action.

The school, family, and community must continue to work together to tighten communication regarding the importance of school attendance, academic success, and graduation.

There needs to be more focus on the importance of education and its life-long impact at the lower grade levels, such as middle and junior high school.

First-generation citizens need help navigating the complex systems of barriers to attending school. Communities need to provide a full range of services to youth. To meet the needs of the youth in the juvenile justice system, targeted mental health and substance services must be available at all levels of need. Services that target this population. The youth population needs early intervention and prevention programs, diversion programs, services assistance, and aftercare treatment to be developed and implemented.

Risk factors in children should be identified as early as possible with services including evaluations in all domains.

Limited availability of intervention services for youth not involved with the juvenile justice system.

No easily accessible and coordinated programs for youth experiencing co-occurring mental health and substance abuse disorders.

Limited access to programs and services for youth attending alternative schools.

There need to be more interim services for youth on waiting lists.

There needs to be more communication and coordination between the involved systems. The absence of good communication means restricted access to services and programs, duplication of services, missed identification of youth, philosophical barriers, and ineffective intervention/treatment strategies.

Services are often provided in a piecemeal fashion, or they address only a fragment of the problem. Strategies should include intensive service plan coordination as well as a "wraparound" approach that targets all domains (psychological, academic, physical, family, social, economic, mental health/substance abuse)

Problem - Delinquency, violence, and persistent misbehavior in children and youth continue to increase.

Recommendations:

- Support a project/program that would allow for a Teen Court for first-time offenders of non-violent issues and traffic violations.
- Advertise available resources to schools, churches, youth organizations, and other gathering points.
- Begin a youth mentoring program.
- Coordination among services/agencies
- Explore the feasibility of a resource officer(s) for the school districts.

- Expand stay-in-school, after-school, and school appreciation activities.
- Expose youth to the value of pursuing higher education through college visit programs.
- Provide information to youth and parents regarding financial assistance for pursuing advanced training opportunities or education.
- Continue programs that reduce risk factors associated with delinquency and strengthen protective factors that prevent such behavior; prevention programs addressing youth issues including a range of behaviors such as impulsivity, bullying, and racial name-calling and threats, as these are precursors to more violent and aggressive behaviors; prevention program addressing coping skills, social competency skills, and enhancement of personal responsibility and respect for others.
- Enhance the availability of inpatient and outpatient services for children and adolescents with a co-occurring substance abuse disorder.
- Develop mechanisms for improving communication and collaboration among providers who serve juvenile offenders.

- Support programs allowing aftercare services that provide extended support, treatment, and prevention.
- Counseling services are limited due to juveniles and family members having to travel out of the area to receive counseling or support for a local resource that is available on more than just an on-call basis.
- Explore funding streams that will allow for treatment for those that do not qualify for MHMR
- Coordination among services

2. Specialized equipment for law enforcement and fire departments

Significant pressures are being placed on the Justice Information Systems used by Federal, State, and local governments. These pressures have resulted from the post-September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks on the World Trade Center, which caused a major emphasis on sharing justice information and ongoing, significant technological changes.

Compounding the problem is that these pressures are being placed on old systems, which have limited functionality, and need more flexibility to address new functional or technical requirements. A major movement is underway in Texas counties to improve their Justice Information Systems (JIS). The new generation of systems is frequently referred to as Integrated Justice Information Systems (IJIS).

This integration works at two levels:

1. A comprehensive system architecture that serves the needs of all justice-related and law enforcement agencies with a county government
2. The ability to integrate a county's justice information with other governments, including local, State, and Federal agencies within that county. By the single entry of data in a county's IS system makes the information available to all agencies within the county boundaries, including Federal government justice agencies.

For example, a police officer making a traffic stop in his jurisdiction could have immediate access to the vehicle registration data and determine if the driver is wanted within the county, in another city or county, or by state and federal agencies.

Problem Statement

Information systems operated by Texas justice agencies have been proprietary and incapable of linking and exchanging information; consequently, the justice community must address new strategies to deliver effective and efficient information-related throughout the State of Texas. During the past year, federal and state agencies, urban counties, rural counties, and municipalities across Texas discussed the need to develop an integrated information system. Although justice agencies need the same information, they have historically been focused on capturing and using information necessary for their systems.

Although the Bosque County government and the majority of cities throughout Bosque County have justice information management systems, Bosque County is one of 254 Texas counties that does not have the resources currently available to develop an integrated justice information system that can effectively share information among the federal, state, county, and local governments and communities.

Data Collection:

- Out-dated equipment
- Insufficient funds to purchase essential law enforcement for smaller jurisdictions (i.e.: vests, weapons, vehicles, PPE, body-worn cameras, etc.)
- Limited thermal imaging equipment is a non-evasive way of finding or locating missing persons or fugitives.

Recommendations:

- In some smaller areas existing equipment must be updated or replaced
- Surveillance cameras needed- only one officer on patrol per night (Clifton PD)
- Support and seek funding to enable jurisdictions to purchase/replace essential equipment.
  - Seek funding to provide a compact package for each patrol vehicle, including biological protective clothing, hazardous materials information, etc.
- Seek funding for encrypted P25 compatible emergency police radios (mobile and handheld)(BCSO)
- Annual replacement of Sheriff's Office Vehicles (BCSO)
- Seek funding for body-worn cameras and equipment for storage.

Resources/Successes:

- Four Thermal Imaging Units are available to share among the agencies.
- Five satellite repeaters are within the county for public safety and emergency management.
- There is 70% radio operability coverage within the county.

3. Insufficient funding for law enforcement and court personnel

Data Collection:

- Not enough funded positions to meet the optimal needs of the community.

- Not able to pay competitive wages for more qualified personnel.
- No funds to create and operate specialized programs.
- Drug task forces are needed.
- Investigation follow-up
  - Clifton PD will be certified to deal with the methamphetamines lab in the county.
  - Transport of mental health individuals takes law enforcement out of pocket for hours; there are not enough personnel to transport.
- Critical Incident and Stress Management debriefing for all first responders (law enforcement, fire departments, EMS, etc.)
  - DSHS in Temple set up teams.

Recommendations:

Funding for qualified personnel and competitive pay for existing employees to reduce turnover rates inside departments/agencies.

- recommended that the county hire person(s) for community grant writing to obtain grant funds. As well as exploring the possibilities of internship grant writers from the surrounding colleges and universities.
- Current financial burden as law enforcement continues to experience long processing times of individuals with mental health issues. This processing and travel time takes some jurisdictions out of service for several hours.
- More personnel and vehicles.
- Counseling services and debriefing following a critical incident.
- There is a need for immediate and individual follow-up with a licensed professional

Resources/Successes:

- MOU with HOTMHMR for contract transportation services
- Mental Health Grace Alliance (counseling services for post-crisis trauma)

4. Substance Abuse – Adult and Juvenile

In recent years the overall crime rate has decreased; however, studies show that drugs drive a record number of crimes being committed today. Drug-driven is an offense committed for the sole purpose of obtaining money to purchase illegal substances or sell such substances.

Data collection:

In a study by the Department of Justice – Bureau of Justice Statistics, 61,000 convicted prisoners reported that their offenses were committed to obtain money for drugs. The study also revealed that of 12,658 homicides committed, 4.5% of the homicides were related to narcotics. Since the mid-1980s, every state and federal court system has experienced an overload of drug offenses and other dockets.

The high recidivism rates associated with drug-related offenses have proven that prosecution and incarceration alone will not break the cycle of the recurrence of drug-related crimes. Based on the belief that drug abuse treatment is more effective in reducing drug addiction and drug-related crime, jurisdictions developed an alternative approach to the traditional adjudication process.

DUI/DWI

- High incident rates
- Insufficient law enforcement workforce to process within local jurisdictions, and smaller departments have to use DPS services, which may not be available.
- Lack of urban and rural community awareness of increased use, manufacturing techniques, warning signs, and environmental concerns.
- Methamphetamines
- Lack of partnership among the retail community enforcement and prevention efforts
- Lack of oversight in remediation (environmental response)

- Anhydrous ammonia theft

According to the U.S. Department of Transportation National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, Texas had 10,1042 total alcohol-related fatalities in 2019. Alcohol-related fatalities made up 28% of all traffic accident fatalities in 2019.

According to the Texas Department of Public Safety Web site, the total number of drug-related arrests in Texas in 2020 was 88,651. The total of all drug abuse violations decreased by 30.9% in comparison with data collected in 2019.

Recommendations:

- Pursue funding streams and resources that offer local support groups, prevention, and treatment

Resources/Successes:

- Alcoholics Anonymous
- Ministerial Alliance
- Texas Association of Counties
  - Bosque County is starting a DWI court program that will be used as a model for TAC – these court programs have been shown to drop recidivism rates
- Hillcrest Baptist Medical Center Trauma Services Teen Safe Program
- Brazos Recovery Center

5. Increase in Domestic Violence Calls

Data Collection:

Domestic violence is the number one cause of injury to women in the U.S., more than muggings, rapes, and auto accidents combined (Surgeon General’s Workshop on Violence and Public Health). The escalation of violence in families has become a justice, public health, and economic problem for families and society. Domestic violence and violence between intimate partners is a problem for Bosque County. The country lacks country comprehensive for reducing the number of incidents and the resources to mediate the damage done to the victims of violence crosses all racial, ethnic, economic, social, and religious barriers; violence between intimate partners is a cycle leading victims into feeling hopelessness and despair.

Gaps in the Community

The following issues require a concerted effort by all entities involved in the victim and criminal justice arena.

- Programs needed for outreach, local resources not easily accessible
- Lack of stable victim resource revenue threatens the ability of organizations to maintain core services
- Lack of resources and accessibility to resources for victims with physical handicaps
- Lack of support groups for male victims
- Lack of standardized requirements for obtaining a protective order
- Lack of training for judges granting protective orders
- Lack of specialized services and awareness for elderly victims of domestic violence
- Lack of awareness among minority groups, cultural groups, and immigrants
- Lack of awareness of available resources in the community
- Lack of transportation
- Lack of affordable and accessible childcare
- Lack of awareness of cultural differences and needs
- Lack of comprehensive case management, job training, transportation, and job search services
- Lack of seamless continuum of care

  - 8.6% increase when compared to 2019. These incidents involved 231,029 victims (an increase of 9.2% from 2019) and 224,792 offenders (an increase of 9.0% from 2019).

  - In 2022, FAC received 17 hotline calls from Bosque County and worked with 2 clients from Bosque County.

6. Sexual Abuse/Assault

Each year males and females fall prey to sexual abuse. This form of victimization often shames the victim and leads to emotional and psychological trauma.

Data Collection:

- Sexual assault referrals by juvenile offenders continue to be a significant problem.
- There are no services for juveniles that are sexual offenders available in Bosque County; offenders are expected to go to Waco or Cleburne for services.

Many victims don't report forcible rape because of the stigma and fear of embarrassment. It has been reported that more than two-thirds of rape and sexual assaults were not reported.

Sexual assault is a highly personal and potentially devastating form of victimization. It may take the victims of this type of crime many years to recover from the physical and emotional effects caused by the sexual assault. Many victims of rape experience the symptoms of post-traumatic disorder and may exist in a psychological cycle of depression, fear, anger, shame, and secrecy.

The crime of rape may also significantly impact an entire community in various ways. It can shatter the sense of safety and trust among citizens. A district may also experience both a psychological and financial toll as well.

Recommendations:

- Search and obtain grants that will provide local services for offenders and treatment placement
- In response to these issues, there is a need for the following:
  - Educate the public about acquaintance and marital rape, and sexual assault
  - Educate the public about resources available for rape and sexual assault victims
  - Expand counseling and advocacy services for rape and sexual assault victims
  - Expand services available to male victims of sexual assault
  - Expand efforts to increase the reporting of rape and sexual assault incidents
  - Expand services available to disabled victims of rape and sexual assault
  - Expand services available to non-English speaking victims of rape and sexual assault
  - Develop a danger, violence, or sexual assault prevention team

Resources:

- Advocacy Center for Crime Victims and Children provides education on sexual assault prevention and rights for victims—also, training for law enforcement. Bilingual services are available.

Interagency Cooperation

The Bosque County Community Planning group was very involved in the planning process. All agencies were proactive in their approach to identifying the needs of the communities. By putting their particular interests aside, they succeeded in developing a strategic plan to aid in prioritizing and closing the identified gaps in the community.

The Planning Committee shared the different services they offered and services provided by agencies/individuals who could not attend the planning meetings. The team met once to update and correct the previous year’s plan. The cooperative working relationship is in place and functions well.

Law enforcement, juvenile justice, victims services, and social services groups agreed to continue working together to make the Bosque County communities safer and increase awareness through intervention, prevention, and education.

Long-Range Plan Development, Monitoring, and Evaluation

The Bosque County Community Planning Team works with other planning groups to ensure a regular exchange of ideas. Individuals in the planning process generally serve on many of these committees and share mutual concerns.

The Bosque County Community Planning Team strives to meet periodically to review the plan and make necessary additions and deletions. The planning team will meet each biennium, but agency and community representatives may submit suggestions and changes via e-mail to the Community Planning Coordinator throughout the year.

Drafts and annual updates of the Community Plan are circulated by e-mail with requests for comments, updates, and changes. Wherever possible, e-mail reduces the need for meetings, printing, postage, etc.

The Community Planning Team intends to improve outcomes for Bosque County families struggling with problems described in the plan's focus areas. Many Bosque County agencies and organizations are trying to address issues with local funds and grant funds from multiple state and federal sources. To the extent that these funds are available, the Community Planning Team will continue to urge agencies to provide programming that addresses the outlined focus areas.
